

Course Number and Title: H529 INTERNATIONAL HEALTH
 Terms offered: Winter
 Instructor: CHUNHUEI CHI

Competency Table

Track competency referenced (#)	Course Competency (text)	Related Components	Learning Activities	Competency Demonstrations
#1.	#3.to identify historical and current global economic, political, and cultural factors that are associated with health development of a nation or a group of nations	Identify development paradigms & historical factors that affect health development.	1.Class discussions 2.Readings 3.Student project presentations. 4.Blackboard discussions	1.Group project 2.Case study
#2	#1.to develop criteria for evaluating health development across countries #2. to analyze factors or causes for international and intra-national inequality in health development by using those analytical methods introduced #4. to ask critical and ethical questions about international health development	Synthesize multiple factors and their association with health development issues.	1.Class discussions 2.Readings 3.Student project presentations. 4.Blackboard discussions	1.Group project 2.Synthesis paper

Competency Table

Track competency referenced (#)	Course Competency (text)	Related Components	Learning Activities	Competency Demonstrations
#3.	#2 & #3	Synthesize multiple factors and their association with health development issues.	1.Class discussions 2.Readings 3.Blackboard discussions	1.Group project 2.Synthesis paper
#5	#2	Research on health development issues and background information and data.	1.Class discussions 2.Readings	Case study
#6	#3		1.Class discussions 2.Readings 3.Group project	1.Group project 2.Group project 3.Synthesis paper
#7	#2 & #4	Learning and understanding the underlying causes of international and intra-national health inequality	1.Class discussions 2.Readings 3.Group project 4.Synthesis 5.Blackboard discussions	1.Group project 2.Group project 3.Synthesis paper